

Herring Notes.

Herring are reported abundant about Cape Freels and the neighboring coast, and they are also striking in at points farther south. The netmen expect to do fairly well with them.

Herring are reported to be striking in at Bonne Bay, and fishermen to be taking five to 20 barrels daily. But there is not yet sufficient quantity in sight to start loading foreign vessels, though the fish are being salted in readiness therefor.

Herring were never so abundant as they have been about Cape Freels the past fall and are hauled in nets in deep water. Suppliers and dealers in their craft there offer $2.50 per barrel, charging 90 cents for the package, and this the catchers say is too small, so that the great majority cease catching the fish.

There has been a good sign of herring the past few days in Placentia Bay and the people are jubilant over the prospect of a good season's catch. Some of the Scotch packers have already put up the first of the new catch. The herring have made their appearance this season earlier than usual.

AT BAY OF ISLANDS.

Several Gloucester Vessels Are Securing Herring Fares.

None Have Loaded and Sailed for Home Yet.

Dispatches received here yesterday from Bay of Islands, N. F., state that some of the Gloucester vessels there are loading with salt herring. The fish are not plentiful yet, and no big hauls have been made. When the dispatch was sent, no vessel had secured a full cargo.

Good Stocks.

The new schooner Ralph L. Hall, Capt. Frank H. Hall, stocked $18,000 for her maiden season in the mackerel fishery. Capt. Hall is one of the leading seining skippers of the port and always does well.

The new schooner Edna Wallace Hopper Capt. Almon D. Malloch, put a stock of $25,000 to her credit for the seining season just closed. Capt. Malloch is a hustler and is always up near the top.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.

Two Salt Herring Cargoes on Way from Newfoundland.

Sch. Independence and Centennial the Crafts Coming.

A dispatch to Gardner & Parsons received Saturday evening from Bay of Islands, N. F., states that sch. Independence has secured a full cargo of salt herring at that place and had sailed for home that day. This is the first vessel to secure a cargo of herring at Bay of Islands this season.

Sch. Centennial, Capt. Frank Carroll, is also reported on the way home from Bonne Bay, N. F., with a full cargo of salt herring.

Speaking of the herring situation, the Bay of Islands, N. F., Western Star of Nov. 13, says:

"The news from the herring resorts is more encouraging since our last issue. The fish are in Middle Arm in great numbers and good catches are being secured. All the vessels in the Arm are taking cargoes and some will be loaded by the end of the week. The American vessel Independence, Capt. Cusick, has about a thousand barrels and will probably be the first to get away to market. The Urania, Capt. J. Petipas, and Pleroma, Capt. S. Brake, have several hundred barrels. All others are doing well. Several of the captains came into Birchy Cove on Saturday and wired Gloucester parties who have been awaiting reliable news before sending vessels. During the week another large fleet of vessels will arrive. About forty American and Canadian vessels will be taking herrings here this season, and many of them will make two or three trips.

The herring fishery at Bonne Bay and Bay of Islands promises to yield as large a golden harvest as in past years. Last season Bonne benefited to the extent of $32,000, and Bay of Islands over $100,000. Not alone do these places benefit in the annual harvest; there is not a place between Bay of Islands and Channel but feels the benefit of the fall herring fishery. Bay St. George, Codroy and Channel have a number of vessels and men engaged in the industry and all will do well. Many comfortable homes and lucrative business places have been built up on the West Coast from the returns of the herring fishery.—Western Star, Bay of Islands, N. F.

Halibut Sale.

The sch. Squanto of Boston is taking out her halibut fare at Boston today, her fare bringing 9 cents per pound for white and 7 cents for gray.
